The Carriage House Interior.

The Carriage House is accessed via a barn style front door with a single 100 mm step, the step is unguarded.

The effective opening width of the door is 800mm, this in turn gives access to the interior of the house the Carriage House interior consists of a living room, kitchen and en suite bathrooms. (The layout is available on the website.)

The living room and kitchen are both open planned areas with a very high degree of colour and tone contrast, a good degree of light both natural and domestic, and a reasonable amount of circulation space, the kitchen has all amenities and provisions including easy grip utensils.

Both bedrooms king and twin, give a high degree of provision, both have the provision of en-suite facilities with corner baths overhead electric showers and WC, both bathrooms have a generous amount of circulation space, good light and good colour and tone contrast.
